NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR PROTECTION OF CHILD RIGHTS (NCPCR)

NCPCR is a statutory body constituted under the provisions of the Commissions for Protection of Child Rights (CPCR) Act, 2005 for the protection of child rights.

NCPCR has been mandated to monitor the implementation of Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012.

POCSO Act was enacted by the Government of India to protect children from offences of sexual assault, sexual harassment and pornography; while safeguarding the interest of the child at every stage of the judicial process, by incorporating child friendly mechanisms for reporting, recording of evidence, investigation and speedy trial of offences through designated Special Courts.

According to a study on 'Child Abuse-India 2007' by Ministry of Women & Child Development, about 53% of children surveyed, reported having faced one or the other form of sexual abuse. It has been found that in most cases, the offender is a family member/near relative or an acquaintance. The child victim in such cases generally does not report these incidents which may occur repeatedly over a period of time. Sexual abuse scars the psyche of the affected child for the entire life.

POCSO e-box is a major initiative by NCPCR to help children report such crimes directly to the Commission.

Government of India

Welcome to National Commission for Protection of Child Rights

The National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) was set up in March 2007 under the Commission for Protection of Child Rights Act, 2019. Its mandate is to ensure that all Laws, Policies, Programmes, and Administrative Mechanisms are in consonance with the Child Rights perspective as enshrined in the Constitution of India and also the UN Conventions on the Rights of the Child. The Child is defined as a person below 18 years of age.

The Commission initiates a rights-based progressive having the National Policies and Programmes, along with increased responses at the State, District and Block levels, taking care of qualitative and strengths of each region. In order to reach every child, it seeks a deeper penetration in communities and households and ensures that the ground responses reflect the support the State receives from all the authorities at the higher level. Thus the Commission sets an independent role for the State, ensure confidence-building processes, respond to apprehensions at the level of the local bodies at the community level and target sensitive concerns for children and their well-being.
